First Stop: Cornwall Service Area

Travelling on

On leaving the Cornwall Service area the choir travelled to the hotel in St Austell. Your editor did some walking to discover the beautiful scenery around the hotel.

On 4th May the choir moved on to the first singing venue.

Healey's Cyder Farm.

It was here that they had the first opportunity to meet and listen to other participating choirs.

On the evening of 4th May, the next stop was a concert at St John's Church St Austell.

An historic and beautiful Methodist Church in the middle of St Austell - warm and friendly, dedicated to worshipping God and serving the community.

On the evening of 5th May, the choir performed in a concert at
Truro Methodist Church

Below, a unique opportunity was seized during the Truro concert, to sing WITH Hereford Male Voice Choir. Nick Thomas was on flute and the Hereford musical director conducted.

This magical moment where both choirs sang together was perhaps the most memorable of the Cornwall Tour.

Thanks should go to Jeff, Nick and others who made this possible.
